

COVID Pandemic

I'm currently on hold in the midst of canceling all the RV park reservations for our Grand Canyon RV trip. The confirmation emails I'm referencing are from August 2019. 7 months ago I was excitedly making plans to go on a 2 week RV trip with my family and in-laws and now I am systematically cancelling it piece by piece. It feels sad and disappointing but with all the restrictions, health warnings, and experiences we wouldn't get to do it made sense.

We will shelve all the planning materials for the trip in the hopes that we can rebook everything at a later time when COVID-19 is hopefully something we know of only from a vaccine and we forget the Spring/possibly Summer of 2020 we lost.
